DETAILED ACTION

Claims 3-8,10, 13 and 14 are pending.

Claims 3-8, 10 were under examination and method of treating claims 13 and 14 were withdrawn.

Claims 13 and 14 are being rejoined as the applicants have amended the scope of the claims to overcome the rejections.

New Rejection of the Rejoined Claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 13 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for having some inhibiting activity towards PDE3 and PDE4, does not reasonably provide enablement for treating dermatoses or COPD, bronchial asthma, bronchitis etc. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims.

In re Wands, 858 F.2d 731, 737, 8 USPQ2d 1400, 1404 (Fed. Cir. 1988).

The state of the prior art: The state of the prior art is that it involves screening in vitro and in vivo to determine which compounds exhibit the desired pharmacological activities. There is no absolute predictability and no established correlation between in vitro activity and the treatment of thrombosis / embolism as the in vitro data is not a reliable predictor of success even in view of the seemingly high level of skill in the art. The existence of these obstacles establishes that the contemporary knowledge in the art would prevent one of ordinary skill in the art from accepting any therapeutic regimen on its face..

The level of predictability in the art: It is noted that the pharmaceutical art is unpredictable , requiring each embodiment to be individually assessed for physiological activity. In re Fisher, 427 F. 2d 833, 166 USPQ 18(CCPA 1970) indicates that the more unpredictable an area is, the more specific enablement is necessary in order to satisfy the statute. The level of unpredictability in the art is very high. The compounds which differ by a methyl group also show different properties, for e.g. theophylline and caffeine. One of them is a bronchodilator and they differ only by a methyl group.

The amount of direction provided by the inventor: The inventor provides very little direction in the instant specification. There are just a few examples with some data of PDE inhibition. there is no data provided that are effective in treating the above diseases, given the unpredictability in the art.

The specifications on pages 29 give some assays data of IC50 values . This is not sufficient to enable the treatment of the above disorders.

Given the unpredictability in the art it is an invitation for experimentation.

The quantity of experimentation needed to make or use the invention based on the content of the disclosure: Thus the amount of experimentation is very high and burdensome.

Genetech Inc Vs Nova Nordisk 42 USPQ 2d 1001.

“A patent is not a hunting license. It is not a reward for search but compensation for its successful conclusion and patent protection is granted in return for an enabling disclosure of an invention, not for vague intimations of general ideas that may or may not be workable.”

.Conclusion

Claims 3-8, 10 are allowable.

Claims 13 and 14 are rejected.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
